Go to… http://ejournals.bodleian.ox.ac.uk

Your library or University card provides access to the electronic journals bought by all of the Bodleian Libraries and is not restricted to medical and health journals.

To access the full text of these journals in the library make sure you are logged-in to a University network computer.

University staff and students can access these resources from anywhere by logging-in using their University Single Sign-On (SSO) when prompted. For details about your SSO see www.help.it.ox.ac.uk/webauth/oxfordusername

Find e-Journals by title
You can search for e-Journals by title by typing part of the title, the exact title, or the beginning of the title into the search box and clicking ‘Go’.

Find e-Journals by subject
Select the main category, e.g., Health Sciences; then the subcategory, e.g., Cardiology. To obtain the list of journals under that subcategory click ‘Go’.
Click the journal title. On the next page you should see one or more links saying “Full text available via…” and then a list of supplier names and date ranges which the supplier covers. Get to the full-text journal by clicking on the supplier name which covers the date-range you need.

Any access difficulties may be due to subscription or network problems. Please contact us in this event (see below for details).
