Around 70% of records include abstracts.

Scopus can be accessed via OxLIP+ while in Oxford. It can also be accessed remotely by University members using their Single Sign-On (SSO) ID via the Log-in link at the top right of the OxLIP+ screen.

If a journal article is available online, a direct link to it is provided. Direct export of records to RefWorks is supported. Scopus also has the facility to set up alerts, either by email or as an RSS feed. Alerts can be accessed on mobile devices.

Cairns Library Refurbishment UPDATE

Progress at the Cairns Library has been good to date with minimal disruption for our users. However, due to unexpected issues with our electrical boards, there will be a delay before the works are complete. Our planned completion date was the end of August but it's now more likely to be the end of September.

The books remain available within the temporary book room, and during August we will increase the borrowing limit to 20 items for final year students (expiry date 31 July 2013) on request.

The full range of IT facilities and the Group Study Room are also available throughout the refurbishment period.

Knowledge Centre Refurbishment UPDATE

Most of the books and print journals are still off site, due to be returned to us by the end of August. Please note that we have kept heavily-borrowed items on site and we are extending loan periods on request. Please contact us directly if you need any of the items marked 'temporarily unavailable' on SOLO, and we will help you access alternative copies. For more information see www.bodleian.ox.ac.uk/medicine/refurbishment

Bodleian Health Care Libraries welcomes new doctors

Library staff were delighted to attend the induction sessions for new Foundation Year doctors and other new medical staff at the Oxford University Hospitals NHS Trust on 25 July and on 1 August 2012. This involved 'selling' our library services to new staff, and we processed over 90 new library registrations within four days.

Ordering Bodleian items at the Cairns Library and Knowledge Centre

We have extended our ordering service to include 'Bodleian'-owned as well as Radcliffe Science Library-owned items that are located in the Book Storage Facility (Swindon). This means that you can now order a wider range of books and journals to the Cairns Library and Knowledge Centre.

You can order these by logging into SOLO (<http://solo.bodleian.ox.ac.u>) with your Single Sign-On and clicking on the 'HOLD' button next to the item(s) you need. Please note that due to legal deposit restrictions you will be unable to remove them from the library sites.

New titles available via Ebook Library (EBL)

Recent additions include:

- End-of-life Decisions in Medical Care (Smith) – on the Ethics and Law reading list
- Ethical Problems and Genetics Practice (Parker)
- 100 Cases in Dermatology (Powell, Benton, and Morris-Jones)
