

RDA transfer training: practice pack

1. Original cataloguing

Each of these examples represents the title page etc. for a resource, together with some additional information. All the ISBNs and ISSNs and most of the NACO AAPs mentioned are fake.

Please have a go at creating records for these 'resources' according to the RDA standard, then compare your version with the model answer.

No need to bother with LCSH or 00X fields, but do make sure that LDR 18 is properly coded for RDA and that you include 040$erda.

The references beginning 'TT' refer to Resource Description and Access: notes for transfer training.

Example 1.1

A fairly straightforward book. Be careful not to introduce inappropriate abbreviations [TT 2.2c]; remember to include the copyright date [TT 1c]; and try to decide on suitable relator terms for the access points for the two people involved [TT 1f].

Example 1.2

- Is this a collaboration (people working together on the whole work) or a compilation (different people responsible for different bits? [TT 3.6b] What should the main entry be? [TT 3.6c]
- This is a short and slight book, with a very large number of people contributing to its intellectual/artistic content. RDA allows you to list them all in the statement of responsibility and make added entries for them all. Is it worth it? If not, how will you show that some contributors have been omitted? [TT 2.2a]
- Ought you to make AAPs for any of the people who took the photos?
- What relator terms are available for Jenny Grey's multiple roles? Be careful to choose them from the appropriate Appendix I lists (Relationship Designators for Creators; Relationship Designators for Other Persons/ Families/ Corporate Bodies Associated with a Work; Relationship Designators for Contributors) and check the definitions. [TT 1f]
- Is there anything odd about the ISBN? How could you show this?
- How many 264s will you need? What should you do about giving a publication date? [TT 1c].
- The content is mainly pictorial. Which term(s) should be used in 336? Do you need more than one 336? [TT 1d]

More details:

- Paperback; 42 pages; 20 cm high.
- Most of the content is photographs, some in colour, with captions and a 3-page introduction.
- There is no NACO record for any of the entities mentioned.

There is no RDA requirement to make an AAP for the first photographer, even though she is recorded in a statement of responsibility, because she does not have main-entry-type responsibility. If you think that an access point would be useful, you could either

(i) make a conventional collective analytical entry:

700 12 $aBrown, Jill.$tPhotographs.$kSelections.

or (ii) make a name-only AAP, with the relator term 'photographer':

700 12 $aBrown, Jill,$ephotoapher.

(Note that the term 'photographer' from the creator list is used even though this person created only a few components of the compilation.)

Analytical entries are generally preferable when appropriate, but it can be misleading to make just one analytical entry when there are many other components on a similar scale, so (ii) would perhaps be preferable in this case.

Example 1.3

- A scholarly edition of works by a single author. How will you form an access point for the selection?
- How much information should you include in the statements of responsibility?

Example 1.4

More details:

- The SCAM webpage gives a contact address in Timbuktu. The 008 code for Mali is ml^.*
- There is a NACO record for a series with the authorised access point 'Tickleums healthy eating', with SCAM given as publisher in 643. The 642 field gives the model 'bk. 1' for the numbering style.*
- There is a NACO record on which 'Gelato, Gina' is a 4XX. Its 1XX is, 'Zabaglione, Gina' based on her married name.*
- From introduction: "now with 12 extra superlicious recipes".*
- Amazon shows a previous paperback issue dated 2008, with ISBN 9780133190135, so this ISBN may not be validly used for the current issue. How will you show this?*

Cover is higher than colophon on the list of RDA sources for title proper, so we have to prefer the facetious information. The facetious publication date has little evidential value – it was obviously chosen because it spells a word – so the best date to use in 008 is the copyright date.

The three bears cannot have an access point at all, since they are not a named person, nor a family nor a corporate body.

Gina gets the relator ‘illustrator’, because her work is subordinate and ‘photographer’ is used only for creators.

Example 1.5

- A book with important accompanying material which is of a different content type, carrier type and media type. Use the RDA lists to provide appropriate 336, 337 and 338 fields for both main and accompanying materials [references at TT 1e].
- Should this record have 34X fields? If you are really keen you can find out more about 34X at http://www.bodleian.ox.ac.uk/\_\_data/assets/pdf\_file/0008/159659/M5-Special.pdf
- There is no place of publication on the resource, but the name of the umbrella organisation strongly suggests that this is a UK publication. Are you allowed to supply 'United Kingdom' as a conjecture? [TT 2.2f]. Appendix B.11 lists 'U.K.' as an abbreviation for 'United Kingdom'. Are you allowed to use it in this context?
- How much of the publisher information should you include? [TT 2.2a]
- Should you use abbreviations for running time? [TT 2.2c]

Notes:

- Book: paperback, 30 cm high, pages numbered 1-32, lots of brightly coloured illustrations.
- Accompanying standard-sized audio CD in pocket attached inside back cover contains multiplication tables set to nursery rhyme tunes. It plays for 12 minutes.

United Kingdom is not abbreviated. Even where placename abbreviations are available in Appendix B they may be introduced only when the placename is used as a qualifier for an access point.

The addition of other physical details and dimensions in brackets for accompanying material is optional, as it was for AACR2, worthwhile only if the information might be important for selection. Since audio CDs are a standard size, there is no question of giving dimensions in this example.

2. Records to edit.

These records are all fakes, but reflect common issues in records available for downloading.

Example 2.1

An AACR2 record downloaded from a non-trusted external database. Some irrelevant fields have been omitted.

- Remember to change the coding in LDR 18 and 040$e [TT 1a].
- In AACR2 this resource was entered under title because there were more than 3 authors. What will the main entry be in RDA? [TT 2.2a]
- How many 264 fields will you need?
- The previous edition was published under a different title. For AACR2 a different edition was a different work and the current edition was considered to be 'based on' the previous edition, so the earlier title was entered in 730. But for RDA a new edition is only a new expression, not a new work. So in which field should the original title be entered?

- This is a single work in two languages, the original Latin and an English translation. For RDA the language versions are separate expressions, so this resource is considered to be a compilation. [TT 3.6c]
