

Trinity Term 2017 Update

Book Moves this term

As part of our on-going project to reclassify the library, book moves are taking place throughout Trinity Term on shelves on the first floor. We hope to keep disruption to a minimum but if you have any difficulty finding material please speak to a member of staff who will be happy to assist you.

Jane Austen Exhibitions

To mark 200 years since the death of Jane Austen the

Weston Library will be holding a major exhibition 'Which Jane Austen?' which will challenge the current public perception of Austen, and present her in the context of the contemporary influences on her writing.

The exhibition opens on 23rd June. In the lead-up to this the EFL will have a weekly changing display of works by, and influenced by, Jane Austen. The works will be displayed in the EFL and will explore a new novel or aspect of Austen's work every week in Trinity term.

Opening Hours from April 24th to June 17th

Monday—Friday 09:00-19:00

Saturday 10:00-13:00

EFL = Environmentally Friendly Library

To make sure the EFL is doing its bit to help reduce waste and save energy, we want your ideas for ways we can make the EFL more environmentally responsible. This vacation we've added signs to all the PCs in the IT training room, encouraging readers to shut down the machines and turn off monitors after use. Let us know what other ideas you think we can implement to make the library a greener space. Leave a comment in the suggestions book by the DVDs, or email efl-enquiries@bodleian.ox.ac.uk

The EFL wants your reading lists

Please let us know if there are items on your reading lists which you can't find in the library: you can speak to staff at the EFL issue desk or email efl-enquiries@bodleian.ox.ac.uk You're also welcome to email the library copies of your reading lists, drop them in the reading list 'drop' on the noticeboard inside the library entrance, or bring them to the issue desk where library staff can take copies.

Get all the latest news and updates on the efl Twitter account @efloxford