Focus on Engineering

The Department of Engineering Science at Oxford was founded in 1908 and is the only unified department in the UK which offers accredited courses in all the major branches of engineering. Each year it produces around 160 new engineering graduates, and admits 60 to 70 students to take higher degrees (DPhil or MSc by research). A taught MSc course in Biomedical Engineering is also offered. The Department has more than 70 academic staff.

The RSL provides support by providing key texts, access to electronic resources such as IEEE Xplore (<http://ieeexplore.ieee.org/xpl/> - a collection of journals and conference proceedings), information skills training and guides to resources (see <http://libguides.bodleian.ox.ac.uk/engineering> and <http://ox.libguides.com/patents>).

Contact Ljilja Ristic (phone 01865 272816, email ljilja.ristic@bodleian.ox.ac.uk) for further information.
