QR code paper

Kelly Schultz, Subject Librarian for Engineering and Computer Science, recently published a paper titled "A case study on the appropriateness of using quick response (QR) codes in libraries and museums" in the Journal of Library & Information Science Research. The full text can be found at <http://tinyurl.com/o5latmp>

Library Assistant for Oxford Freshers

The Bodleian and College Libraries have been working over the past year on a JISC-funded project to develop an online library induction designed primarily for delivery via Smartphones and other mobile devices. The result of this project, Library Assistant, is now live at <http://www.bodleian.ox.ac.uk/assistant> in time for use by 2013 freshers at the start of Michaelmas. It can also be accessed by scanning the QR code below.

Library Assistant is designed to run alongside traditional face to face inductions. It is intended to help new students discover which libraries are most relevant to their course, find items on reading lists, access their library account and library wifi networks, and use printing and photocopying services. Although it is primarily intended for use on mobiles and tablets, it can also be used on desktop and laptop computers.

Welcome to the monthly newsletter bringing you items of interest from the Science and Medicine Libraries of Oxford University. Please send your comments and questions to:

What's new

Parallel Universe - reminder

The closing date for the 2013 Parallel Universe poetry competition is 13th September. See <http://www.bodleian.ox.ac.uk/science/poetry-competition-2013> for details.

Open Access update

HEFCE is inviting views on open access proposals for the post-2014 Research Excellence Framework (REF) - see <http://openaccess.ox.ac.uk/open-access-and-the-ref/> for more details. Contributions to Oxford's response should be received by 30th September.

New Resources

- The Ebrary Academic Complete collection of over 88,000 e-books is now available. The records for the books are in SOLO and there is an entry for the complete collection on OxLIP+. It can also be accessed directly at <http://www.ebrary.com/landing/site/bodleian/index-bodleian.jsp>

- We also now have access to

Comprehensive Physiology, the online version of Handbook of Physiology (published for the American Physiological Society by Wiley-Blackwell). Originally a 34 volume series, this is now a database with quarterly updates. Content covers all aspects of physiology: Cardiovascular, Cell, Comparative and Evolutionary, Environmental, Exercise, Gastrointestinal and Liver, Integrative, Metabolic, Muscle, Neuro, Renal and Respiratory.

Access is via SOLO or Oxlip+, or direct at

<http://www.comprehensivephysiology.com/WileyCDA/>

Welcome new Clinical Medicine students

We look forward to welcoming the new Fourth Year Clinical Medicine students and Graduate Entry Medicine students at their inductions in September. There is a wide range of facilities available to our students, including:

- 24/7 access to the Cairns Library, using their University Card.
- Bookable Group Study Rooms at both the Cairns Library and Knowledge Centre.
- Multiple copies of Clinical Reading Lists texts available in print, and online where available.
- Laptop and iPad lending service at both the Cairns Library and Knowledge Centre.

Jo Gardner

Jo Gardner has been Desk Services and Resources Manager at the Bodleian Health Care Libraries (BHCL) since July 2008. She has overseen a number of service improvements, such as the on-going expansion of e-books and e-journal subscriptions for both the University and the OUH Trust and the removal of a large amount of printed stock on the both library sites as part of the recent refurbishment projects.

Jo leaves BHCL to become

Bodleian Social Science Librarian on

7 October. Although she looks forward to this exciting new opportunity, she has enjoyed working with her BHCL and RSL colleagues and would like to thank them for all their hard work and support.

Jo Gardner

Key Resource

ClinicalKey - 900 Elsevier Textbooks Online for Clinical Students

ClinicalKey from Elsevier covers every medical and surgical specialty and includes more the full text of over 900 key medical and surgical textbooks, thousands of videos and millions of images. It's available to all OUH Trust staff and to all clinical medical students. Access instructions will be emailed to all fourth year students by the end of September. For further information contact hcl-enquiries@bodleian.ox.ac.uk

NEW online journals

The following titles are now available and listed on SOLO

- Current Gene Therapy - an expert forum to convey the latest research on gene transfer, gene expression analysis, vector development and clinical applications for the treatment of disease.
- Journal of Alzheimer's Disease - an international multidisciplinary journal covering all aspects of Alzheimer's disease.
- Seminars in Oncology - current, authoritative, and practical reviews of developments in the diagnosis and management of patients with cancer.
