

Bloomberg PC Conditions of Use

When readers request access to the Bloomberg PC they have to satisfy a number of conditions. The undersigned has read, understood and accepted the following conditions;

- Access is only open to current University staff and researchers
- Alumni do not have access
- Data is extracted for academic and non-commercial research only
- The data cannot be shared with anyone else without permission
- The data must be destroyed after it has been used
- Access is for current research only. If access is needed for future projects a fresh application must be made
- Bloomberg rules on citation have to be observed
- A short statement on the research project that is being conducted and why Bloomberg is needed has been (or will be) provided to the Data Librarian

Tick to confirm I am a current University staff member or researcher.
