KASEMAKE TRAY AND LID BOX

These boxes are like shoe boxes in design with the lid being separate from the tray. They use a lot more board than Kasemake clamshell boxes and therefore are more expensive. PADS recommend full lid trays only for shallow boxes. Other lid depths can be a third, half, or three quarters the depth of tray. Prices are as below regardless of depth of lid. Tray and lid boxes can be constructed in a variety of ways so please discuss your requirements with pads@bodleian.ox.ac.uk.
