Purpose of this guide

This guide is intended for students and researchers at the University of Oxford seeking support in Sociology, although students and researchers from any field may find it useful.

Use this guide to find out about printed and online resources, including ebooks, ejournals, databases, and special collections for Sociology.

Finding books for Sociology

Oxford has a wide range of printed books for Sociology, including the main collection in the Social Science Library. See below other libraries which hold Sociology books.

It also offers an ever-increasing access to e-books collections.

For more detailed information on our ebook collections visit the Ebooks & Online Reference page of this guide.

- SOLO Library Catalogue
Search SOLO for printed and electronic books at Oxford. You can search by author, title or subject and limit to a specific library or online resources.
- SOLO user guide
If you need help with SOLO, take a look at this guide for tips on searching, managing results and using your SOLO account.

Journals

The Journals page of this guide presents subscription collections and portals, which offer access to full-text periodicals in Sociology.

If you want to search for all the journals the University subscribes to use SOLO.

Databases

The Data and statistics page of this guide introduces a selection of sources available for researchers and students at the University of Oxford. To see more sources, and find out about services for those who need to make secondary use of statistics and data, go to the Bodleian Data Library.

Oxford subscribes to many bibliographic databases that can be used to locate journal articles, conference proceedings, books, patents, images, data and more.

You can browse Databases A-Z, a list of Oxford's online databases, or search all Oxford databases, along with other resources, on SOLO Library Catalogue.

- Databases A-Z
A browsable list of databases available at Oxford

Which Library

- Bodleian Social Science Library
Houses the collections in Politics, International Relations and Sociology, and is the library for taught course provision in this subject, along with first level research material, contemporary works (including legal deposit), and the core journal collection.
- Central Bodleian library
Holds many important Western language sociological works from the 19th Century onwards and extensive collections of both historical and contemporary sociological interest.
- Radcliffe Science Library
Holds the majority of works on social psychology and has collections relating to the sociology of science and social aspects of technology.
- Nuffield College Library
The largest social science library outside of the Bodleian Libraries, and holds sociology collections relating to the interests of College members since 1937.

Contact the Bodleian Social Science Library or the Subject Consultant (for subject enquiries) if you wish to ask a question or seek more help.
