

Welcome to the Taylorian, the University of Oxford's library for Modern European languages, literatures, and linguistics.

The library is spread across five levels, including the basement. This map shows how to get to each of these levels. Some areas can only be reached through specific staircases. Also marked are some of the library's main rooms and collections.

Please ask a member of staff if you need help at any time.

Lift

Central Stairs

South Stairs

These can be accessed through the Basement, or via the Main Reading Room on the Second Floor

Other Stairs

Staircases are colour-coded
Please check which staircases lead to the area you want to access

Accessible Toilet

Female Toilets

Access from Basement or Ground Floor (via stairs)

Male Toilets

Access from Ground Floor only (via stairs)

Staffed Desks

Issue Desk on Ground Floor
Enquiry Desk on Second Floor

PCAS

Print, Copy & Scan